Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

We chose to use a competitive Internet service provider because, unlike AT&T and Comcast:

They will not block access to, or slow down access to, particular sites.

They don't save data about us and sell it.

They impose no data caps limiting the amount of data we can download.

Their support department is a responsive local organization, not a large bureaucracy.

They wouldn't be able to offer this service if they can't get access to the phone wires going to our home; allowing phone companies not to provide access to those wires by competitive Internet service providers would limit competition and reduce the quality of service available.
